

G. O. P. Leaders Urge Early Return of MacArthur

Administration Seeking To Convert Enough Insurgents To Assure Tax Bill Passage

Harrisburg, April 12—(P)—The administration, successful in reviving the once-defeated income tax bill, sought today to convert enough insurgent Republicans to assure its passage next week.

The Republican house leadership failed to muster enough votes to follow through on a decisive vote yesterday. Only 103 Republicans indicated willingness at a closed caucus to go along with the controversial measure. A constitutional majority of 105 is needed.

Speaker Herbert P. Sorensen (R-Elk) said efforts would be intensified to persuade some of the 17 dissident Republicans to join the ranks of the administration next week.

The GOP won two thumping victories over Democrats in a hectic house session yesterday. A move by Democrats to require public hearings on the one half of one percent income tax was beaten down 119 to 88.

Then the administration triumphed by a 115-91 to return the measure to the house agenda. Of the GOP membership, only the four-member Delaware county delegation and Rep. Edward S. Swartz (Dauphin) turned in against that move.

Government Appeal In Mine Workers' Case Is Dismissed

Washington, April 12—(P)—The U. S. circuit court of appeals today dismissed the government's appeal from a decision which had cleared John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers of contempt of court in their 1950 contract strike.

The appeal court split, 2-1, in holding the case was moot, that is, no longer an issue.

The lower court's decision, by Judge Richmond B. Keach, was quickly followed a year ago by a contract between Lewis and the soft coal operators ending a ten-month dispute. It was appealed by the Justice Department.

The government asked that the union be punished for prolonging the strike after Judge Keach had issued a back-to-work order on February 11, 1950. Justice attorneys argued that Lewis had given only "sham" compliance to the order when he directed the miners to get back on the job. The miners ignored the Lewis order. The government insisted that was according to Lewis' plan, too.

A three-judge panel heard the government's arguments and the union's replies last April 26. The panel included Judges Harold M. Stephens, E. Barrett Prettyman, and Charles Fahy.

Chief Judge Stephens, who wrote the majority opinion, was joined by Judge Prettyman. Judge Fahy wrote a dissent.

Judge Stephens said a civil contempt proceeding would not deter offenses against the public or vindicate the authority of the court.

Judge Fahy said he did not regard the case as moot, and said it should be considered on its merits by the court.

The effect of the court of appeals' action today is to allow Judge Keach's action to stand.

District Judge Keach, in a decision March 12, 1950, dismissed both criminal and civil contempt charges against Lewis and his coal miners growing out of a soft coal strike.

Crowd of Americans and Japanese Wait Patiently For Last Glimpse of General

Tokyo, April 12—(P)—General MacArthur left his headquarters in the downtown Dai Ichi building after a one-hour visit to his office tonight, perhaps his last.

One of MacArthur's honor guard said the general went to clean out his desk.

A large crowd of Americans and Japanese had waited patiently for hours for a glimpse of the five-star general.

MacArthur strode out of the building at 8:10 p. m., 70 minutes after he had entered.

Earlier he had talked with his successor, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, at his residence.

At his side as MacArthur left the building was his right hand man, Maj. Gen. Courtney B. Whitney, who asked to resign from the Army when his chief was fired by President Truman.

MacArthur was chatting with Whitney as they walked from the building. He paused to look at the crowd.

A Russian officer, notebook in hand, stood alone on the opposite sidewalk.

Photographers flashbulbs popped, lighting MacArthur's austere face.

The five-star general smiled slightly, spoke to the officer of the guard, Lt. Robert Downey, and entered his sedan. Whitney climbed into another car.

Downey, of Pottsville, Pa., later said MacArthur had remarked "the flashbulbs reminded him of artillery."

Downey said he had been officer of the honor guard three years. Tears welled in his eyes as he watched MacArthur's sedan drive out of sight.

The officer estimated 500 persons watched MacArthur's exit.

Commanders of Veterans Organizations Generally Uphold Ouster by Executive

Harrisburg, April 12—(P)—Gov. John S. Fine says he "regrets" that Gen. Douglas MacArthur had to be relieved of his command. He termed the action an "unhappy situation."

At the same time state commanders of veterans organizations generally upheld President Truman's ouster of MacArthur.

The comments from the chief executive and commanders occurred while a resolution was being introduced last night in the house calling for that body to "censure" the president for his action.

In Gettysburg, three veterans' posts invited MacArthur to address the Memorial Day observance in the National Cemetery on May 30. The organizations were American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Sons of Union Veterans.

David Graybill, commandant of the Marine Corps League of Pennsylvania, said "it is traditional with Marines to stand by the leader—in this case, President Truman."

Louis G. Feldmann, Veterans of Foreign Wars commander, said the general's dismissal "will be hailed and twisted by the Kremlin into a victory for world-wide Communism."

State Adjutant Edward Linsky of the American Legion said he was "shocked" by the action.

CHECKS SICK LEAVES

Pittsburgh, April 12—(P)—Mayor David L. Lawrence doesn't care who checks city sick leave claims, just so chiseling is stopped. Lawrence made the statement after receipt of a letter from public health nurses refusing to investigate sick leave abuses. He refused to divulge contents of the letter written by Chief Nurse Alberta R. Williams to Health Director I. H. Alexander.

Interesting Survey On Public Reaction

Washington, April 12—(P)—Rep. Leonard W. Hall (R-N. Y.) said today a check of public reaction received by 239 Republican senators and representatives on the Truman-MacArthur controversy showed:

(1) Telegrams received were 6,938 to 47 in favor of MacArthur.

(2) Telephone calls 1,481 to 0.

(3) Messages "asking for impeachment of the president," 5,178.

Hall said the check was made by the staff of the Republican congressional committee, at his request, between 4 and 5 p. m. yesterday.

Five-Star General Prepares to Return And Defend Action

Tokyo, April 12—(P)—General MacArthur made plans today for a return soon to the United States—ready, if invited, to air before congress the views that got him fired by President Truman.

The five-star general kept his public silence but his right hand man gave the first inkling of how staunch MacArthur's defense would be.

Maj. Gen. Courtney B. Whitney, MacArthur's closest adviser, issued a statement saying his deposed boss felt he had violated no Truman directives.

"The general feels that he has complied meticulously with all directives he has received, not only recently, but throughout his entire military service," Whitney said.

Whitney earlier had announced he has asked the Army for retirement from his post as contact man with the Japanese government in handling the occupation.

MacArthur visited his office in the downtown Dai Ichi building for one hour tonight. One of his honor guard said the general went to clean out his desk.

A large crowd of Japanese and Americans watched outside as MacArthur, smoking a pipe, strode from the building and entered his car.

Earlier, Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway flew in from the Korean battlefield and went into immediate conference with MacArthur at the five-star general's residence in the U. S. embassy. Ridgway was accompanied by Secretary of Army Frank Pace.

After the talk, Ridgway left for Korea.

Ridgway arrived after turning over his U. S. Eighth Army Command temporarily to Lt. Gen. Frank W. Milburn. Milburn will serve until the arrival in Korea of Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, veteran of two world wars and head of the American Mission that advised the U. S. Supreme Court.

The latest respite came after the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered a stay of Darcy's execution so his attorneys could appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Earlier Darcy's appeal for a writ of habeas corpus was turned down by the federal district court in Scranton. The state supreme court also declined to issue a writ.

The U. S. supreme court twice has denied appeals for a new trial for Darcy.

Charles Margiotti, former state attorney general and counsel for Darcy, argued that his client had been denied his constitutional rights and had not been given a fair trial.

Dr. J. W. Clady, warden at Rockview Penitentiary, broke the news to the condemned men as they sat in their death row cells talking to prison chaplains.

All fell silent for a few moments. Then Darcy said:

"Thank you very much. We have much to be thankful for."

Former Undercover Man Takes The Stand

Pittsburgh, April 12—(P)—Another former FBI undercover man says he worked among Communists from 1941 to 1944.

He is Manning Johnson of New York, a negro, who says he was a party member from 1930 to 1939.

Johnson followed another FBI undercover man, Matt Cvetec, on the witness stand yesterday at the sedition trial of three Communists.

Three Killers Win Ninth Respite From The Electric Chair

Bellefonte, April 12—(P)—Three convicted killers have won their ninth respite from the electric chair.

David Darcy, 26, Harold Foster, 26, and Harry Zietz, 21, all Philadelphia, were to have been executed at 12:30 a. m. today for the slaying of William Kelly in the holdup of a tavern near Doylestown, in December, 1947.

But Gov. John S. Fine yesterday stayed execution for the fourth time in 10 days. The condemned men were notified six hours before the time fixed for death. The new reprieve runs until May 7.

The latest respite came after the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ordered a stay of Darcy's execution so his attorneys could appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court.

Earlier Darcy's appeal for a writ of habeas corpus was turned down by the federal district court in Scranton. The state supreme court also declined to issue a writ.

Democratic Leader Expresses Opposition To Republican Reapportionment Plan

Harrisburg, April 12—(P)—Sen. John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland) said today the Democratic party "will fight any further attempt at gerrymandering by Republicans" in Pennsylvania's reapportionment.

"Present districting does not provide for true representation of the people," said the Democratic floor leader.

Dent said the 20 Democratic senators now in the senate come from districts composing 51 per cent of the state's population.

"Yet the Republicans, representing a minority of the people are the majority party in the senate with 30 seats," he added.

Reapportionment committees in the senate and in the house have been given the job of mapping out the best plan for redistricting.

U. S. PLANES VICTORIOUS IN ROARING DUEL

Tokyo, April 12—(P)—American warplanes shot down five enemy jets, probably destroyed two more and damaged 15 today in two roaring air fights over northwest Korea.

All American planes came safely out of the battles.

One of the thunderous clashes was the biggest jet fight in history. It involved 152 jet planes—80 Russian-made MIG-15s and 72 American F-86s and F-84s—and about 40 B-29 medium bombers.

On the ground, two Chinese Divisions pulled back suddenly and mysteriously on the central front. American troops pushed cautiously ahead in their wake against no opposition. Staff officers said they were puzzled by the enemy withdrawal.

The two Red divisions Wednesday bitterly opposed Allied crossings of the Han River south of Chorwon. They fought from the craggy hills north of the river.

But they broke contact Wednesday night.

South Korean troops on the east coast stabbed 26 miles into North Korea in the deepest redland penetration of the current United Nations drive.

In history's biggest jet battle, the 80 MIGs swooshed out of Red Manchuria against 72 U. S. jets flying cover for 30 to 40 U. S. B-29 superforts. The B-29s dropped 300 tons of bombs on the vital railroad bridge across the Yalu river between Antung, Manchuria, and Sinuiju, Korea.

The American jets shot down two MIGs, probably destroyed two others and damaged 13.

A B-29 gunner brought down a third Red jet. B-29s also damaged another Red jet.

Two B-29s were damaged but landed safely in Korea. The others (Turn to Page Fourteen).

NEWLY-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF FOREMEN'S CLUB WINNER OF SAFE DRIVING AWARD

Carl Jones of 17 Park avenue, employed at the Paramount Furniture plant and newly elected president of the Foreman's Club, last night became the ninth Warren Junior Chamber of Commerce $5 safe driving winner.

For a full hour yesterday afternoon Jaycees William G. Farin and James Hess tried to use their right-of-way to enter Fourth Street, a through street where cars to the right should get the right-of-way.

But Farin and Hess advise other motorists not to try it because all they got for their effort were horn blasts and dirty looks. "All we wanted to do was to give away $5 to a cautious motorist on that street," Farin stated. "We now consider Fourth Street a safety hazard."

To find yesterday's safe driver Farin and Hess had to turn away from Fourth street and they first spotted Jones making a right turn from Pennsylvania avenue to Hickory street using his turn signal. Unable to follow him at that time the Jaycee observers later saw Jones going east on Pennsylvania at Liberty street. He observed all traffic signals and traveled at a safe speed up Pennsylvania avenue. He slowed for caution lights and used signals before entering Park street where he again turned into his own driveway.

This is the second honor accorded Jones this week. Monday he was elected president of the Warren Foreman's Club. He has been driving since 1923 without a major accident. Jones stated he felt drivers should be careful to observe traffic signals and that even with maximum care driving is still hazardous.

Farin and Hess noted two drivers who failed even to shift gears for a stop sign on Prospect street at Jefferson. They too noted the great majority of motorists do not signal before turning and they also saw one woman who did signal but did not turn.

But Farin and Hess felt the Fourth street situation was most serious. They believe anyone not familiar with the Fourth street situation could become involved in a serious accident. They reminded Fourth street motorists that failure to give cars on the right the right-of-way could result in a serious accident for which they might have to pay the bill.

Contempt Charges Against Secretary Sawyer Postponed

Washington, April 12—(P)—The U. S. court of appeals today postponed its contempt of court charges against Secretary of Commerce Sawyer and nine others, but denounced their conduct.

Sawyer, Attorney General McGrath, and other high government officials sat silently by for more than an hour while the court criticized the government's part in litigation over a big steamship company.

Sawyer and other government officials who have been cited for criminal contempt were directed to come back April 23 to "show cause" why they should not be adjudged guilty.

In delaying the proceedings, the court acted on a tacit suggestion by Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson. McGrath said the chief justice did not wish to issue instruction to the lower court, but would welcome more time to study two pending government applications.

Judge E. Barrett Prettyman, speaking for the court of appeals, reviewed the long, bitter litigation for stock control of the American President Lines.

The court of appeals has directed that 92 per cent of the company's voting stock be delivered by Sawyer to the R. Stanley Dollar Steamship interests. The citations were based on the failure of government officials to comply with this order.

Efforts Made by President's Opponents to Induce General To Fly Back Home Next Week

Washington, April 12—(P)—House Republican leader Martin of Massachusetts said today "there is a possibility" General Douglas MacArthur may fly back to the United States next week to address congress.

Martin made the announcement to newsmen following an early morning session of the house Republican policy committee.

"There is a possibility," he said, "that General MacArthur will fly back next week and will be available to address congress sooner than the three weeks mentioned earlier."

Original plans, Martin said, were for the deposed general to return from Japan by ship.

Republicans, furiously angry at President Truman for firing the general, are sponsoring a resolution inviting MacArthur to address a joint meeting of the senate and the house.

The house rules committee will consider the resolution tomorrow and Martin said he is confident both the committee and the house will approve it. He said he doesn't expect administration Democrats to fight the invitation proposal.

As for the senate's attitude, Martin said he didn't know.

The Republicans are frankly aiming at providing MacArthur with a forum to outline his Far Eastern policy to the world.

Among the Democrats, Senator Kerr of Oklahoma, said it would be unwise for the general to address congress and that he will do what he can to prevent it.

In the event administration Democrats fight the resolution to invite the general to speak in the house chamber to all members of congress, Republicans are considering renting what one of them called "the biggest hall we could hire" and holding a party conference to which everyone would be invited.

The GOP policy committee meeting approved a statement intended as a reply to President Truman's address to the nation last night.

President Truman has pinned high hopes for peace—and vindication for firing Gen. Douglas MacArthur—on the crushing of a threatened Communist spring offensive in Korea.

Mr. Truman told the nation in a radio and television talk last night that he believed MacArthur of his Pacific commands because the five-star general disagrees with his policy aimed at preventing the Korean fighting from spreading into a World War. Less than 22 hours had elapsed since the announcement of the picturesque general's dismissal stirred this nation and the rest of the free world.

"We do not want to see the conflict in Korea extended," the president said solemnly and firmly. "We are trying to prevent a world war—not to start one."

Mr. Truman said that the bombing of Red bases in Manchuria and the use of Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa—both advocated by MacArthur—would in-

Truman Expected To Set Up New Wage Stabilization Board

Washington, April 12—(P)—President Truman probably will have to name a new Wage Stabilization Board with only public membership. He is expected to act within the next 48 hours.

Those opinions were expressed today by both industry and labor leaders called to another White House meeting of the president's Mobilization Advisory Board.

The government is under great pressure to set up a board to handle scores of disputes piling up behind the wage freeze.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston has said if labor and management cannot agree on what kind of board should supplant the one labor boycotted nearly two months ago, the president has hardly any alternative but to set up a board with only public representation.

Leaders of the United Labor policy committee have stood fast for weeks in favor of a board which would handle nearly all disputes as they arose.

They say that since wages are frozen and there is a stigma attached to striking during the mobilization emergency, a wage board should handle all sorts of labor-management disputes.

Management spokesmen—representing the National Association of Manufacturers, U. S. Chamber of Commerce, Business Advisory Council of the Commerce Department, and the Committee for Economic Development—were equally insistent on having a board which would handle only wage problems.

Senator Says "Treason in White House" Is Aided "By Bourbon and Benedictine"

Milwaukee, April 12—(P)—The Milwaukee Journal today quoted Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) as saying that "treason in the White House" has been accomplished by "bourbon and Benedictine."

McCarthy asserted, according to the Journal, that the "treason" was accomplished by men who knew how "to get the president cheer-ful," and continued that the dismissal of Gen. MacArthur by the president is "a Communist victory won with the aid of bourbon and Benedictine."

In Washington, Presidential Press Secretary Joseph H. Short read a copy of this dispatch and said: "no comment." McCarthy was en route back to the capital by plane from Milwaukee.

The Wisconsin senator, according to Journal Reporter Robert Fleming, made the statements Wednesday night in a speech before nearly 600 members of the Wisconsin Retail Furniture Dealers Association.

Fleming said that in an interview before the speech he asked McCarthy whether he believed that President Truman should be impeached. Fleming said McCarthy answered:

"The --- --- should be impeached, but on the other hand he's not important. It's the crowd around him that causes the trouble."

The Journal quoted McCarthy's reference in his speech to "bourbon and Benedictine" as follows:

"This is a black day, one of the blackest in the history of this country. A day in which America and all western civilization suffered a tremendous defeat and the Communists, home made and foreign made suffered a great victory, a victory achieved with the aid of bourbon and Benedictine."

McCarthy said the record showed that "the pals of Alger Hiss are still running the state department."

Hollywood Writers Named as Members Of Commie Party

Washington, April 12—(P)—Screen Writer Richard J. Collins said today that writers Ring Lardner, Jr., and Budd Schulberg were members of the Communist party in Hollywood 10 years ago.

Calmly, matter of factly, the 36-year old Collins told the house Un-American activities committee of his own service with the party and of others who he said were active in it.

He told the committee it was Schulberg, "or it might have been Ring Lardner, Jr., 'who was instrumental in getting him into the party in 1938."

Collins said he drifted away from the party in 1947 after attending "close to 5,000 hours of meetings."

"That's enough for a lifetime—I don't think I'll have to go any more," he added—and he smiled faintly.

Meeting Discusses Farm Marketing And Production

A meeting of vital importance to all farmers and friends of agriculture in Warren County was held in Venango County court house, Franklin recently. It was one of the first of the kind where representatives of the Soil Conservation Service, Production and Marketing Administration, Extension Service, and Farmers Home Administration sat down at a conference table to discuss, explain, and set in motion the action necessary to coordinate in each county the different United States Department of Agriculture agencies into a single County Agricultural Resources Conservation Service.

As soon as conveniently possible in Warren County the Production and Marketing Administration, now located at Second and Liberty Streets, and the Soil Conservation Service now in the court house will be moved into adjoining offices.

The farmers will benefit by this consolidation in not having to go to several buildings about town to see the various agencies desired, less confusion as a result of more efficient use by these agencies in each being assigned definite duties and responsibility in the new service. More and better application of conservation practices to the land to increase income and production, reduce erosion, and secure 100% proper land use according to the capabilities.

The coordination of all agricultural agencies is the result of the increased demand on our food and fiber producing resources, greater economy and more efficient use of trained and experienced personnel.

Volunteers Discuss Fire Police School

Merle See, fire chief at Youngsville, was named official representative of the Warren County Active Volunteer Firemen's Association at the April meeting of the group last night at Columbus. The session was attended by 67 representatives from volunteer units throughout the county.

A letter also was read from Stub Pierce, of the Department of Public Instruction, in regards to setting up a training school in this area for fire police. Companies interested in this program are asked to report by the association's next meeting, slated for May 10 at Sugar Grove.

Entertainment at last night's meeting included a baseball reading by Mrs. Andy Christensen, selections by the Swipe Hunters barbershop quartet from Corry and a two-man "horse act".

The Columbus firemen served lunch at the close of the meeting.

Hal Boyle's Comment

By ED CREAGH
(For Hal Boyle)

Washington, April 10—(P)—You've heard a lot about Truman the president, Truman the letter-writer, Truman the plain man from the Missouri farm.

Now meet Harry Truman the historian.

More and more, the man in the White House is looking into the past for a key to understanding the present—and perhaps as a guide to the future.

"Read more history," he often tells people who worry out loud at the state of the nation—or of the universe.

Mr. Truman has been demonstrating the result of his own delving into the history books.

"There isn't any difference," he told a group of magazine editors, "between Hitler and Mussolini, Tarquin in ancient Rome, the tyrants in Sparta, Charles the First of England, Louis the 14th—and Stalin."

Firm With Plant in Warren Takes Steps To Speed Contract Letting in Country

As a move toward aiding the government in more efficient negotiations of defense contracts in the current national emergency, Royal Metal Manufacturing Co., Chicago, leading producer of metal furniture and durable hard goods, and recent purchaser of the De Luxe Metal Furniture plant in this city, has reorganized its executive staff toward contract negotiation, and has issued a "manufacturing and technical service facilities" brochure designed expressly to assist government and prime contractors.

The reorganization of the executive staff is chiefly projected to allot territories and government agencies and fix responsibility for initiating and following through on government contract negotiation.

The booklet's main purpose is to give at a glance a complete picture of Royal Metal's technical facilities for doing government defense work on a prime or sub-contract basis. It also shows in detail the unique personnel re-assignments which will do much to expedite contract negotiation and thereby help in at least a small way to speed up the defense program.

The booklet is a 32 page, two color assembly of all of Royal Metal's manufacturing facilities, with dramatic photographs presenting a picture description as well as a technical summary, of the company's outstanding machinery and the products it is now making and did make on government contracts during World War II.

A complete listing of field and executive personnel, pictures and descriptions of Royal Metal's seven manufacturing, assembly and office installations in this country, and a map of the United States showing the headquarters of members of the field technical service staff also are included in the booklet.

Available only to government buyers and prime contractors, the booklet will be distributed through Royal's field technical service staff for opening negotiations with contract sources.

Accompanying issuance of the "manufacturing and technical service facilities" booklet is a notebook of instruction to the FTSS and information concerning the letting of government prime and sub-contracts. This notebook explains to all Royal Metal field staff men just what government agencies let contracts and how to contact them, and the meanings of such phrases as "open bid contracts," "negotiated contracts," and "letters of intent."

Believed to be among the first of the nation's industrial concerns to gear itself to the dual condition of government-civilian production and to promote the company's manufacturing and technical services as a means of expediting government defense order negotiation, Royal Metal already is active in the expanded defense program, having received over $2 million worth of defense orders.

Can't Hold Back on Praise for Hadacol

Wonderful Formula Relieves Indigestion, Fatigue, Aches and Pains, When Due to a Lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron

When everybody you know starts telling you how much better you're looking and when all your troubles seem to disappear almost overnight... MAN, that's a wonderful feeling! Nothing in the whole wide world can beat it! That's just what happened to Mr. John P. Ray, c/o the Caseville Democrat, Caseville, Missouri.

Mr. Ray heard how HADACOL was relieving conditions caused by a lack of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron, and he decided to see what it would do for his aches and pains and stomach distress. So sincere, so straight-forward, is Mr. Ray's letter that we want you to hear about it from him in his own words.

He says, "Before I started taking HADACOL I was rundown and had no appetite whatever. After taking my fourth small sized bottle, I could easily tell that I was feeling better, and now after being on my fourth large sized bottle, I well know of the splendid value it has been to me. Many people I met, who had known me years and years, remarked to me that I was looking better. I told them unhesitatingly that I had been taking HADACOL. I unhesitatingly recommend HADACOL because I well know the fine results it has secured for me. This is the first time in my life I have ever given a testimonial, but I do feel that a person who has received as much good from HADACOL as I have, should tell others about it. You have my permission to use this statement in any way you desire. It is all true and I do not back down on one word of it, as my neighbors and friends here at home could verify."

HADACOL has been specially compounded to give you more than the minimum daily requirements of these very elements, plus helpful quantities of Phosphorus and Calcium. They're all in the special HADACOL liquid form for quick, easy absorption in the system. HADACOL builds blood hemoglobin (when Iron is needed) to speed these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every part of the body and to every body organ.

Can you doubt an honest statement like Mr. Ray's? Can you doubt the words of your friends and neighbors who have been helped? Why not find out for yourself today. Remember, HADACOL is recommended by many doctors and is sold on a strict money-back guarantee. (adv.)

MAIN POINTS IN CONFUSION

Here are a few main points to keep in mind, as suggested by James Marlow, Associated Press feature writer, before the uproar and confusion over the firing of General MacArthur get worse, which they will.

A lot of hot stuff already has been thrown into the steaming pot and, when heatedly stirred, won't make for clarity of thought: strategy, civilian control over military commanders, emotions and politics.

But first there's the talk in congress of impeaching President Truman for firing the general. At this point it comes only from Republicans and is apparently strictly sound effect stuff.

Strategy—
Several months ago Mr. Truman said that, with Asia mostly Communist now, we'd be alone in the world if we lost our Allies in western Europe through attack by Russia.

To prepare against such an attack, since Russia is looked upon as the main enemy, this country and its European Allies are trying to build their defenses. This may take several years.

To avoid wasting lives and material in Asia, this country and its Allies are trying to reach a settlement with China in Korea. The Truman administration thinks this may be done if the fighting can be limited to Korea.

General MacArthur had been ordered to limit the fighting to Korea. He wanted to make all-out war on the Chinese Communists instead of just fighting them in Korea.

He wanted to bomb Manchuria, which belongs to China and adjoins Korea, since it's through Manchuria that the Communists pour men and supplies into the Korean fighting.

Further, he wanted to use Chiang Kai-Shek's anti-Communist troops of Formosa for an invasion of China Proper, thus forcing the Communists to fight on a second front.

But if China's Manchuria were attacked and Chiang got into the fight, we'd be in all-out war with China and there'd be no hope of peace in Asia.

Also it would require great forces of men and supplies which otherwise could be used in Europe.

More than that: Russia might not only come to China's assistance in Asia but might also attack in Europe before our Allies there were ready.

In short, the Truman administration viewpoint and policy go like this:

So long as we don't get into a general war anywhere, a general war may be avoided.

General MacArthur's view was this: At the rate we're going in Korea, the fighting there may go on endlessly, without any peace anyway; better try to smash China once for all.

Civilian control over military commanders — — —

If MacArthur had thought all that, but followed orders and kept his views to himself, there would have been no dispute. Instead, he made his views public. More, he defied orders to keep his mouth shut.

The Truman view was that this made peace tougher to achieve in Asia with China, was spreading confusion among our European Allies, and was outright defiance by a military man of civilian policy.

It brought up the basic question: Who's boss, the president or the general? Mr. Truman decided it by firing MacArthur.

Politics—Republicans in congress have supported MacArthur and are supporting him now. If they keep the pot boiling now, they'll shake public confidence in Mr. Truman's leadership some more.

The emotional side— — —

All kinds of people are mixed up in this emotionally: Parents with sons in Korea; parents with sons who might be in a third world war; and people who think Communists, whether in China or Europe, should be smashed anytime they make a move, without regard to over-all strategy.

Spring brings out juvenile bicycle riders in large numbers. Their parents should impress upon them that the traffic situation is more dangerous than it was but a few weeks ago. More cars in use and the danger of accidents is greatly augmented.

Youthful cyclists face greater hazards than ever before. It is time for extreme caution, not only on the part of bicyclists but motorists as well. The campaign for safer cycling should not be delayed!

Here And There

We are in receipt of a release from the "Expectant Fathers Club," Room 323, 152 West 42nd street, New York City, containing information that should be of interest to certain of our young male population. You may be surprised to learn that the national Expectant Fathers Club was organized in 1947 "to raise the status of prospective dads of the nation from the forgotten men to remembered men." Max Hess, Jr., Allentown department store manager, who is not an expectant father, has been elected director of the non-profit making, non-political club by the board of governors and announces offices will soon be established at the Hess store. Membership cards and neat lapel pins, shaped like diaper pins, bearing the letters "E. F. C." are distributed free of charge to eligible members, and the club, open to all expectant fathers, is non-dues-paying and strictly fraternal in nature. All papas-to-be throughout the country are invited to contact Hess at Allentown and a free membership card and pin will be sent. A special club room and lounge for expectant pops will soon be established in Allentown. Over 100 chapters of the Expectant Fathers Club are already in existence throughout the country. The catch in the whole setup may be found in a statement that says that local diaper services sponsor the meetings. Arrangements will be made with the American Red Cross in Allentown, Easton and Bethlehem to hold regular classes for expectant fathers, teaching them proper techniques and all phases of baby care. Hess reveals that the club organization is sponsored under the laws of the District of Columbia.

This 'N' That: The annual summer meeting and tour of the Pennsylvania Christmas Tree Growers' Association will be a two-day event to be held at Akers, this county, August 24 and 25, according to information received by the State Department of Agriculture, noting that there will be visits to a dozen large Christmas plantings of Christmas trees in the area scheduled. . . . College men can get their applications blanks for draft deferment tests from their local draft boards beginning today. Selective Service headquarters in Washington, reminds, stating that they should do so as promptly as possible. . . . Among new bills before the state senate is one to appropriate $2,750,000 to the Welfare Department for state-aided hospitals for outpatient and dispensary service, sponsored by Sen. LeRoy Chapman, of Warren, and Sen. Israel Stiefel, Philadelphia. . . . National Baseball Week will be observed on April 14-21 under the sponsorship of the Sporting Goods Dealers and is expected to be heralded by networks and television shows. . . .

Roundabout: In letters sent out this week Garwood K. Lodge, aged 40, well known resident of Tidiole, announces his candidacy for sheriff of Warren county subject to the decision of Republican voters at the primary election this spring; a veteran of the State Highway Patrol, State Police and World War II, Lodge announces plans for an active campaign. . . . Department of Forests and Waters officials have been busy the past week equipping fire wardens for the spring season, which reminds that the rain of this morning (Turn to Page Nine)

Study German Plan to Give Labor a Share in Management

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Half-way between U. S. capitalism and British Socialism, a new economic system is emerging in West Germany. The German name for it is "mitbestimmung." Translated, it means, "co-determination." What it involves is equal representation of union labor and management on the boards of directors of German corporations.

Although U. S. newspapers are just beginning to show interest in co-determination, State Department and Marshall Plan officials dealing with Germany have been aware of it and have watched it closely. More recently, representatives of U. S. labor unions and management groups have begun to study it.

Clinton Golden, retired CIO Steelworkers' official and a former Marshall Plan labor adviser in Europe, has just returned from an examination of this new industrial management machinery in Germany. He declares that the equal share in representation by German workers carries with it an equal responsibility for improvement in all aspects of industry.

National Association of Manufacturers is also concerned over the possible spread of co-determination from Germany to the rest of the world. Eldridge Haynes, publisher of "Modern Industry" and president of the National Management Council, is now in Germany for N. A. M. His mission is to study co-determination, find the reasons behind it, what it's trying to achieve and if possible help find what other solutions might be possible.

IMMEDIATE importance of co-determination to the United States is that this is more or less what the United Labor Policy Committee is trying to obtain in the American defense program. Instead of seeking co-determination at the individual corporation management level, however, the U. S. union officials want it in government. They want to be co-managers of the American rearmament program with Defense Mobilizer C. E. Wilson. Up to now, U. S. unions have made no move for an equal share in the responsibilities of industrial management.

In defense of co-determination, Germans say it is an answer to the threat of communism. It is also claimed to be a better answer to communism and socialism than nationalization of industry, as under the Labor government of England. It would still leave some vestiges of private enterprise systems.

After World War II German labor union movements were reorganized. In 1946, the British, who controlled the Ruhr industrial area, granted the unions equal representation with management on the boards of directors of the 24 new steel companies they were trying to form outside the old cartels. Each board was given a neutral chairman. Gradually this type of organization was extended to coal.

When the Allied High Commission for Western Germany was formed last year, it passed a law authorizing reorganization of these temporary companies. Then the fun began. German labor unions insisted that their co-determination rights be extended to the new management. In January they threatened a strike if they didn't get it.

German Chancellor Adenauer assumed the role of mediator and avoided the strike. But a new law, authorizing co-determination, was introduced in the Bundestag—the west German parliament at Bonn. This law was passed on first reading and referred to committee. Here it has met opposition and several efforts to get the bill out of committee have failed. A showdown will come soon.

The U. S. government has kept its hands out of the fight, believing that this is a problem the Germans must solve for themselves. American industrialists agree that any interference by U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy would be regarded as American imperialism.

REPORTING

The blow which fell on the American people with the dismissal of MacArthur undoubtedly will produce a long series of repercussions. In the midst of this fog of fears, it is well to remember that the antidote to confusion is information.

Please remember, too, that the American public library is the only source which preserves, provides and circulates information covering all points of view. Even the free propaganda is here but with the healthy addition of books, pamphlets, newspaper and magazine articles whose authors are known.

Among books which can be found at the Warren Public Library are the following of interest in our current predicament:

For information and background on the Asian question—Greene's Epic of Korea; McCune and Grey's Korea Today; Payne's Revolt of Asia.

About the man himself—Kelley and Ryan's MacArthur: Man of Action; Gaunther's The Riddle of MacArthur.

Opinions on the suggestions for our foreign policy—Bailey's Man In The Street; Impact of American Public Opinion on Foreign Policy; Brookings Institute Major Problems of U. S. Foreign Policy, 1950-51 (this is particularly good in being factual, apparently impartial and in making a clear statement of our policy).

Dulles' War or Peace; Mowrer's Nightmare of American Foreign Policy; Warburg's Last Call For Common Sense; Johnson's Incredible Tale: Odyssey of The Average American In The Last Half Century.

For the most recent in opinions, interpretations and information, there are magazines such as Current History, U. S. News and World Report, Fortune, Time, Newsweek, Nation, New Republic, Colliers, Atlantic and Harper Magazine. This selection is deliberately selected to represent the gamut from most conservative to most liberal. As for the radical, the Warren Library (in conjunction with most libraries) occasionally represents the radically conservative—but not the radically radical.

Of course, there are many more books—and more magazines—in the library to provide knowledge for those who want it. And since these are the public's books and magazines, it might be a good idea for the public to read them. Well—read some of them, anyway.

American Legion Marks April As Child Welfare Month

The American Legion again will observe April as "Child Welfare Month", Commander Willis Lundahl of the Chief Cornplanter Post No. 135 of Warren announced today.

"Current events indicate that the fate of our Nation and of the world in a few short years may depend on the quality of care which all American children now receive", he said. "The children of America today will be the American citizens and leaders of the World tomorrow. They must have sound bodies and sound minds to discharge their responsibilities of the future. This is the objective of the vast child welfare program of the American Legion with its theme of 'A Square Deal for Every Child'.

Commander Lundahl pointed out that through its nationwide organization The American Legion is able to keep abreast of child welfare needs throughout the Country and to develop services and legislation to cope with ever-changing problems. It observes April annually as "Child Welfare Month", he explained, "in order to focus public attention upon the needs of all children and particularly upon the importance of religious training. More than 50,000 trained volunteer workers help make The American Legion a leader in child welfare work. Twin objectives established more than a quarter of a century ago and which remain fundamental today are:

1—To assure the care and protection of veterans' children.

2—To improve conditions of all children.

"Emergency financial aid, education and legislation are the three phases of the vast welfare program of The Legion", Commander Lundahl said. "The main purpose is to preserve the child's home and to look after the 'whole child', including its physical, mental, emotional and spiritual needs."

The work of thousands of volunteer workers of The American Legion, its Auxiliary, the Forty and Eight and the Eight and Forty, is supplemented with the professional service, counsel and guidance of a small paid staff of experts at National Headquarters. The national child welfare activities of the Legion are financed in part by income from a $7,000,000 endowment fund raised in 1925 and increased in 1946. Department and post organizations finance their child welfare activities through various means such as poppy sales.

The American Legion will conduct special programs here and elsewhere throughout the Nation during April to focus public attention on child welfare needs. Special emphasis will be made during April on the importance of religious training of children. Local American Legion child welfare activities are under the direction of William F. Johnson and Harold A. Johnson, co-chairmen of the local post's child welfare committee.

Mrs. Leon Johnson Renamed Head of Blue Stocking Club

Blue Stocking Club members were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the Watson Memorial Home through the courtesy of Mrs. E. P. Wroth and guests at the home were invited to the meeting and program. Miss Fannie Smith, a home guest, was the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fred Plummer.

The report of the nominating committee was read and approved with the following reelected to terms of office for the coming year: Mrs. Leon Johnson, president; Mrs. Ethel Morris, first vice president; Mrs. George Calderwood, second vice president; Mrs. Harriett Wilkins, secretary. Others chosen were Mrs. Robert Wingard, assistant secretary; Mrs. C. L. Thompson, treasurer.

Committee heads announced for the new year are: Mrs. Warren R. Carlin, program and parliamentarian; Mrs. Florence Tillotson, publicity; Mrs. R. L. Blodgett, treasurer; Miss Morris, legislation. Reports of the current year were given by the secretary, Mrs. Wilkins; the treasurer, Mrs. Burr Walker, and the club president, Mrs. Johnson. Miss Morris read three bills before the legislature and members voted their approval. The bills would regulate adoption of children, permit yellow margarine to be sold, and force television to devote one-fourth of its time to educational programs.

Following the business session, Mrs. Carlin read a paper on Williamsburg, Va., and beautiful colored slides of this historical town were shown. She was assisted by Mrs. C. L. Thompson. Mrs. Ernestine Hill sang two numbers, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Wilkins.

Tea was served in the attractive dining room, with Mrs. Johnson and Miss Smith presiding.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Forget Your 'Ideal Mate' If You Married Human One

THE first thing any girl should do as soon as she settles down to married life is to forget all her ideas of what a husband ought to be. If she doesn't, it won't be long until she is comparing good old Joe with that ideal husband she is still carrying around in her mind—and usually to good old Joe's disadvantage.

Let Joe settle down to being himself and he is sure to be different in many ways from his wife's idea of an ideal husband.

But if a girl forgets about the ideal husband she has put together through the years, then she is ready to be a good and understanding wife to Joe.

REALLY KNOW JOE SHE can really get to know Joe—how he thinks, how he feels, what is important to him, what is wonderful about him and what things she will probably just have to put up with. That is, she can learn that much about Joe if she isn't always expecting him to feel and think and act the way that ideal of hers would expect him to feel and act.

And if she suspects that her husband is confusing her with his idea of what a wife ought to be like, she can point out gently to him that she isn't anybody's ideal wife, she is just herself—which, after all, he found satisfactory enough to want to marry.

Judging from the letters that come to me from both husbands and wives, a lot of men and women never let go of their mental picture of the ideal husband or wife.

As someone else has put it: "Ideals have wrecked more marriages than any amount of ordeals."

Kitchen and Long Sugar Grove Unit Rites Announced Has Installation

Announcement is received here of the marriage of Russell R. Kitchen, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kitchen, Sheffield, and Nancy Ann Long, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Long, Williamsport.

The ceremony was performed April 5 in the parsonage of the Central Baptist church, Williamsport, by the pastor, Rev. G. Blair Hemans.

The bride wore a melon colored gabardine suit, with tan and brown accessories, and a corsage of red poppies.

Attending the couple were Beverly Long, sister of the bride, and Tyrus Arndt.

Mr. and Mrs. Kitchen are residing at 841 West Third street, Williamsport, where the former is employed by the Atlas Plywood Company and attends Williamsport Technical Institute, studying mechanical drafting. He is a veteran of World War II, with overseas duty in Italy. They have postponed their wedding trip until July, when he will have his vacation at the Atlas firm.

BIBLE CLASSES HONOR CHORISTERS

Russell, Apr. 11—The men's and women's Bible classes of the Methodist church entertained choir members, their husbands and wives, at a delightful dinner party at the church. Table decorations were colorful African violets, candles, crepe paper streamers and miniature hymnals.

There were 65 persons present for the dinner and a program arranged by Mrs. Scott Phillips in the form of a radio quiz. Each member was called upon for questions and asked to sing. Numerous prizes were awarded in solo and duet contests.

JAMESTOWN SPEAKER AT SUGAR GROVE

Sugar Grove, April 12—Miss Mabel Reese and Mrs. Howard Onink, committee from the Reading Club in charge of the annual meeting of the Sugar Grove Free Library, announce that Miss Jennie Vimmerstedt, Jamestown, will be the guest speaker next Monday evening at eight o'clock in the school auditorium. Mozart Club Entertained By Philomel Welcomed here yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club for their annual exchange program and visit to the Philomel Club were nearly 20 members of the Mozart Club of Jamestown.

Mrs. Joseph DeFrees, (seated), Philomel president, greeted the visitors and commented on the very pleasant association of the two musical groups over the period of about 25 years in which these annual exchange programs have been enjoyed.

Responding, Mrs. Henri W. Hall, (standing), head of the Mozart group, expressed her pleasure and that of her fellow-members and extended a very cordial invitation to all Warren members to come to Jamestown May 2 for the second half of the exchange event.

Appearing on the very delightful afternoon's program were Mrs. George H. Tolley, singing two groups of soprano solos, with piano accompaniment played by Miss Ruth Munson; Miss Vivian Lawson, violinist, with accompaniment by Mrs. Karl Bach; and Miss Carydean Nelson, pianist.

The upstairs music room was made most attractive with a large bouquet of calla lilies and the same flowers were repeated in the tea table appointments at the close of the program. Combined with the lilies were stocks and snapdragons in spring pastels. Mrs. Harry Logan, chairman of the hostess committee, invited Mrs. DeFrees and Mrs. E. P. Wroth to pour.

Philomel members will bring their regular club year to a close with the next meeting, when officers for the coming season will be elected.

TIMES-MIRROR
Warren, Pa.

Is everybody happy about the housing situation in Warren?

Lets get to that next meeting, and speak up, so the argument won't be so one-sided.

It will be too late when your rents are doubled or tripled.

Some of the landlords are fair and reasonable but there are a lot of gougers in Warren.

About all these apartments advertised for rent, all you have to do is inquire the price and you will let them keep on advertising.

With the laboring man's wages frozen or tied up with long term contracts, lets try and stop this game before it gets started.

Parent-Teacher Unit Plans May 1st Open House at St. Joseph's

At the April meeting of the St. Joseph's Parent-Teacher Unit, plans were arranged to have open house May 1st at St. Joseph's school, with officers and chairmen of standing committees in charge. All members are cordially invited and are urged to bring friends interested in the school and the work accomplished by the unit.

The committee for the regular meeting in May was named, with Mrs. Frederick Aumer as the chairman. Election of officers will take place at that session and a committee composed of Ben Occhuzzo, Mrs. Richard Harrison and Mrs. Albert Book was named to prepare a slate.

Tentative plans are being made for an ice cream social, with Mrs. Occhuzzo as chairman, the date for the affair to be announced later. It was also announced a public card party will be held April 17 in St. Joseph's school hall, when prizes will be awarded for contract and auction bridge, five hundred and canasta. There will also be special prizes and, to conclude the evening, refreshments will be served by Mrs. Albert Book and her committee.

Father Alfred Bauer personally thanked officers and members for all their efforts and the work accomplished by the unit, expressing his deep appreciation to all, individually and collectively. He gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on topics up for discussion and again expressed his gratitude for all that had been done.

After the attendance prize had been awarded to fifth grade pupils, the meeting was adjourned and refreshments were served by Mrs. Edward Hartnett and her committee.

NORTH WARREN PTA

The April meeting of the North Warren PTA will be held Monday evening, with teachers in their rooms at 7:30 o'clock and the business session starting promptly at eight o'clock in the community house, President Flue Wendelboe presiding.

"Wonders of Our West", an illustrated travelogue by James Blomquist, promises to be one of the most interesting programs of the year. A social hour will follow, in charge of mothers of second grade pupils. All members are urged to attend and to bring other interested persons.

GOING TO FLINT FOR SON'S WEDDING

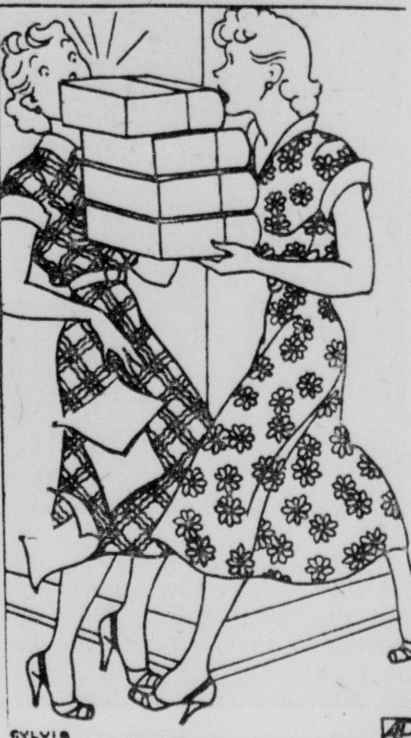

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Weigle, 101 East street, left this morning for Flint, Mich., where they will be guests at the wedding of their son, George, and Miss Joan Brooks, of Flint.

The ceremony will take place at 10 a. m. Saturday in St. Matthew's church, with the bridegroom's brother, Fred, flying from Pittsburgh to be his best man.

AUXILIARY MEETING

The postponed meeting of the Clarendon Fire Department Auxiliary will be held in the fire hall at eight o'clock this evening and a large attendance is hoped for.

don't DO that!

LOOK WHERE YOU'RE GOING ... Carelessness causes many minor accidents in offices and homes. Don't plunge blindly.

TIDIOUTE WCTU

There was a good attendance, despite the rain, for the regular meeting of Tidioute WCTU, held at the home of Mrs. Ida Byrnes. Mrs. John Lawson led the devotions and the president, Mrs. F. E. Kapp, led the salute to the three flags.

During the business session which followed, the president read a letter from the state president concerning success of the project to send fruit juices to Korea. It was decided to begin work on afghans for the Macall Mission for tubercular children in France and the holding of a rummage sale to raise national funds was discussed.

The child welfare program was in charge of Mrs. Charles Craytor and dealt with narcotic conditions among youth. Mrs. Craytor is starting a new LTL in Tidioute and Mrs. Hazel Selander read the names of the 10 White Ribbon recruits. The meeting was concluded with prayer by the president, a period of silent prayer for national defense, and repetition of the Lord's Prayer in unison.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served by the committee.

CRAFTSMEN'S SHOW

It is understood a number of local persons have planned attendance at the annual show of the Erie Chapter, Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen, to be held in the Erie Public Library May 1-12. The show is open to the public from 2:00 to 5:30 and 7:00 to 9:00 daily through the week and from 9:00 to 6:00 on Saturday.

A number of Warren county craftsmen attended the show last year and found it of great interest and inspiration. Exhibits included textile painting, wood carving, weaving, ceramics and needlework.

MAY ATTEND SERVICES

Mrs. Francis Kotmair, grand regent of Court Warren, Catholic Daughters of America, has been notified by the committee in charge of the Days of Recollection being held at Gannon College in Erie, that a limited number of local members may attend these services on Sunday, April 22.

Reservations must be made no later than Wednesday, April 18 and those wishing to attend may have full information by calling Mrs. Kotmair, 2189-M, or Mrs. Willis Cooney, 2676.

DAR Membership Enjoys Music By Monroe Marshall

At the April meeting of General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution held last evening at the YWCA activities building, members had the privilege of hearing Monroe Marshall sing three beautiful solos.

Accompanied at the piano by Miss Joan Retterer, he chose for his selections "Strange Music" from Songs of Norway, "The Lord's Prayer," and "Bird Songs at Eventide."

The program was concluded with Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Granquist showing excellent slides of Pennsylvania song birds, accompanied by the recorded song or call of each bird.

Mrs. W. G. Cable, regent, presided at the meeting, opening the session by stating the society's objectives. After the Pledge of Allegiance, Mrs. F. P. Kirwin, newly appointed chaplain, offered prayer and members stood in silent tribute to Mrs. T. H. Russell, recently deceased member and chaplain. Miss Harriet Eaton also commented in loving memory of Mrs. Russell.

Routine business included reading of communications and reports.

At the close of the evening, refreshments were served by the Misses Camilla and Catherine Henderson and their committee. The attractive table was arranged with pussy willows, iris and daffodils, with yellow tapers, Mrs. Cable and Mrs. R. H. Sandblade presiding.

IRVINE WSCS MEETING

Irvine, Apr. 12—Eleven members attended the meeting of the Methodist WSCS held at the home of Mrs. Edith Olson. The president called the meeting to order with devotions, assisted by Mrs. Ongley, Mrs. Walters and Mrs. Hamblin. A short business meeting was conducted, with a silver offering taken, and a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed.

The May meeting will be held at the church, when the Kinzua WSCS will bring a birthday cake.

ing helps again to allay fears of forest fires. . . . For some persons tomorrow, Friday the 13th, will be just another day, but for many it will be a date to be cautious and wary, especially about walking under ladders, permitting black cats to cross paths, etc. It is also interesting to note that it was Friday, the 13th, 1743, that Thomas Jefferson third president of the United States was born at Shadwell, Va., and he didn't do so bad! . . . Congratulations to all in charge of the Red Cross drive now reported almost $1,000 over the top. . . . We have received a copy of the biennial report of the trustees of the Warren State Hospital for the period ending May 31, 1956, to the Secretary of Welfare, Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which makes interesting and informative reading, and will provide the subject for a review later.

Youngsville Scout Troop Discusses Plans For Supper

Several items of interest were discussed at a special meeting of the Troop 31 committee of Youngsville Evangelical United Brethren church, including the designation of Thursday, April 26, as the date for the annual pancake supper. Permission was given the troop, also, to purchase six tents as troop equipment.

Acting in the capacity of a Board of Review, Gilbert Sanford, Rev. Harold Lindquist, Harvey Garris, Ed Nelson and Plumer Mourer recommended two boys for advancement to second class. They were Joe McCollough and Don Artico.

In the regular weekly Scout meeting, 21 boys and two leaders were present to participate in a program based on patrol organization.

Immediately following, the Green Bar Patrol met under the leadership of Scoutmaster Lewis Crippen and the senior advisor, Bob Clark. The program for Monday, April 16, was planned in detail, using as a theme "Personal Equipment Necessary for an Overnight Hike and How to Pack It". Themes for meetings of April and May consist of items necessary for the Council Camporee, while the program for June and July will be in preparation for a cross-country race. This training will climax in an actual race and overnight experience, with patrol competition.

A weekly patrol contest based on attendance, payment of dues, advancement and encouragement to wear uniforms is in progress, with Patrol A, led by Joe McCollough, in first place with 137 points; Patrol B, under the leadership of Myron Nelson, second with 112; Patrol C, led by Ted Hackson, third with 79.

Celebration Group Will Meet Monday

An important meeting of the Warren Fourth of July Celebration committee, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the American Legion Home, and all active workers, along with any other interested citizens, are urged to be on hand promptly at that time.

Reports will be received on the progress being made on the numerous projects that have been scheduled for three days beginning with vespers services on the evening of Sunday, July 1st, and concluding with a grand and glorious fireworks display late in the evening of July 4th.

ONE CALF POWER—This nine-month-old Guernsey calf, broken to yoke, provides the pulling power for a light cart to enable her owner, Pat Chester, to haul livestock feed supplies from North Warren Feed and Supply Co. to her home on Hatch Run. Round trip is about four miles. The calf was born on the Fourth of July and has been named "Patriotic Lady". The calf was raised as a "bottle baby" and responded readily to pulling the cart after Pat had fashioned a yoke from small tree limbs. (Times-Mirror Photo)

Record Output Of Turkeys in State Predicted in 1951

Harrisburg—Farmers and commercial turkey growers of Pennsylvania are getting ready for their biggest production year in history, according to Federal-State reports announced by the State Department of Agriculture.

Aiming toward increased Thanksgiving and Christmas demand, thousands of turkey poulters have been received on farms and many others are on order from hatcheries for an expected all-time record production of 1,562,000 birds in 1951. As in recent years, marketing of the 1951 turkey crop will be spread practically over an entire year with heaviest movement during the holiday season.

In 1950 Pennsylvania ranked ninth among all the states in production of turkeys at 1,494,000 birds, but stood fifth in the $10-, $68,000 received from sales due to the high quality of birds and the closeness of large consumer populations.

Pennsylvania farmers last year raised 1,502,000 turkeys but death losses during the year of turkeys on hand January 1 amounted to 8-, 000 head. There was an increase of 10,000 in the inventory, during the year and 28,000 birds were consumed in farm households, leaving a net of 1,456,000 birds sold. Growers received an average of 42.9 cents a pound liveweight compared with 43.7 cents a pound in 1949.

As of January 1 this year, there were 184,000 turkeys on farms in Pennsylvania, 10,000 more than a year previous. These included 86,000 breeder hens, the same as January 1, 1950.

Turkeys sold during 1950 were approximately the same weight as the year before. All birds averaged 17.4 pounds each in 1950 compared with 17.7 pounds in 1949. Hen turkeys averaged 13.8 pounds against 13.9 and toms ran to an average of 21 pounds against 21.5 pounds the year before.

RUNAWAYS RETURN

STREET POSTED

Police expect to post Poplar street from Pennsylvania avenue to Fourth today in accordance with parking ordinances approved by city council some time ago. Delay in receiving the proper signs has held up the work until now. Under the new ordinance, two hour parking will be allowed on the street on the west side only. There will be no parking on the east side.

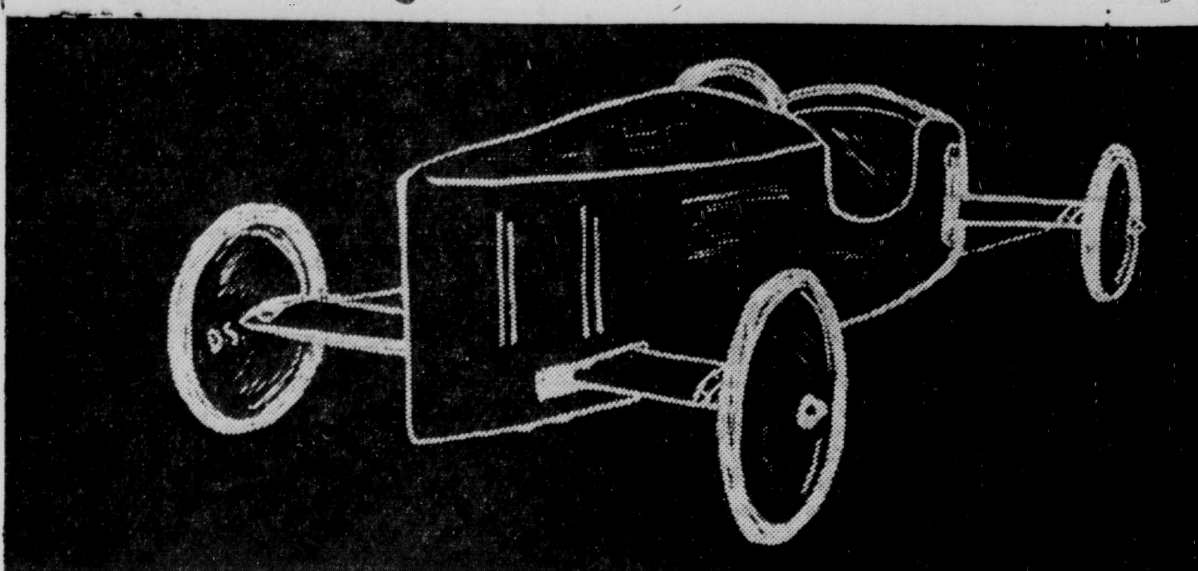

DIES SUDDENLY

Reib, retired Franklin fire chief and recently supervisor of buildings and grounds of the Franklin School District, died at 1:20 p. m. yesterday in a high school corridor, apparently of a heart attack. The school custodian was seen to clutch at a wall and fall to the floor by students changing class at the time. Mr. Reib was dead before a doctor arrived minutes later.

Entries Arriving For Kids Koaster Klassic in July

Bernard Bloom, co-chairman of the Kids Koaster Klassic, reported this morning that entries are starting to come in for the midget car race which will be a part of the Warren Fourth of July celebration.

He stated that some of the boys who intend to build their cars and take part in the race are obtaining sponsors to purchase the wheels and axles at a cost of $10.95. The Jaycee committee advises that boys need not have a sponsor to enter the race and they will be permitted to use their own wheels, but the wheels and axles available at Dan's Chevrolet are perhaps the most effective for use in the race.

The committee hopes that many more boys between the ages of 11 and 15 will enter the big event and suggests that merchants, parents, clubs, or other individuals act as sponsors for the entries by purchasing the wheels and axles.

Prizes for the Koaster Klassic include bicycle, radio, and a camera plus a helmet and a T shirt for each entrant. A meeting of all boys will be called shortly so they may be instructed concerning the building of their cars and the rules for the race. Deadline for entries is April 23rd.

TIME TRAP By ROG PHILLIPS

Chapter 25
"BUT how could that be?" Ray asked incredulously. "That's already happened and we can't change it. Why, right now we could turn and walk away from all this, and it would go on without the slightest change."

"Could you?" Nelva asked, smiling. "Aren't you assuming that the 'past' is fixed while the 'present' is changeable? Actually none of it is changeable, past or future or present. In your memory you went through all that over there in the shadow world days ago—but actually at that same time you were over here doing what you're doing right now. They both happened and are happening at the same time."

"But that's absurd," Ray exclaimed heatedly. "Then I was 'over' there, aware only of what went on around me there."

"So the difference is in the location of your seeming awareness," Nelva said. "All right, I'll show you something."

She fumbled in the bag she was carrying and brought out a small pill box. She took out a capsule and handed it to Ray.

"Swallow this," she ordered. After he had obeyed her she went on. "That's a hypnotic of a certain type that will make your mind more receptive of suggestion. It acts quickly."

"I don't feel anything," Ray said.

"You won't," Nelva said. It's a very dangerous drug. It practically wrecked the economy of the "United States" at one time. You can slip that powder in a cup of coffee and in a few minutes a man will sign over his entire fortune to you without an argument. Close your eyes."

Ray did so instantly.

"Now," Nelva said. "It is the day after you arrived in the future. You are with Val and Joe. Are you?"

Ray nodded.

"O.K.," Nelva said. "Look around behind you."

The shadow Ray Bradley looked around idly in their direction.

"Now you are with me," Nelva said. "Open your eyes."

Ray opened his eyes. He looked over at his shadow form queerly.

"For an instant," he said. "I would swear I was right back in that second day."

"You were," Joe said. "Nelva asked you to look around and your shadow head did."

"It did?" Ray exclaimed. "I thought I moved my head here."

"No," Joe said. "I looked both places to make sure."

"Now do you understand?" Nelva said. "With your conscious mind you affected events over there in the shadow world—events that you considered unchangeable. They ARE unchangeable. If you have a clear enough memory you will remember changing your head around over there—perhaps wondering what made you look over this way."

"No," Ray said doubtfully. "I can't remember, but you must be right. I see what you mean though. But what about consciousness? I am certainly not aware over there now!"

"But you are!" Nelva said. "What is consciousness? Thought goes on in your mind outside of your current range of consciousness all the time. Subconscious thought, it's called. Inspiration, perhaps. It pushes through from one level to another, from the past as memory, from the future as inspiration or premonition or foresight or prophecy."

"Then I am going to talk to myself tonight," Ray said. "I'm convinced. I can see it now."

"That's right," Nelva said. "Although you can be conscious only of the three dimensional being, you are really a multi-dimensional being through which consciousness flows. If you could see yourself as a whole you would see the continuity of structure connecting your shadow body and your present one, and really understand they are just two cross sections of the one person—" slightly bent back to run parallel for a short period."

ONE of the innumerable three-dimensional pictures of the Vargian queen was looking down at them at the moment.

"What's your sister, the queen's, name?" Joe asked.

"Queen Vargia," Nelva said. "That's custom. It's also custom for the second born girl to be named Nelva, and the third, Nancy, in the royal family."

"I just thought of something," Joe said. "Why can't we go ahead into the future this way and see how things are going to turn out—or have you done that already?"

He looked slyly at Nelva.

"It might be possible," Nelva said. "Nancy and I tried it—without success. We couldn't find ourselves. It isn't even possible right now to make you in your shadow body look and see you as you are here, because you would have to penetrate the barrier of that other consciousness level. I have heard, though, of so-called adepts of past ages, who could see their future ahead of them clearly right up to the moment of death. Christ himself was supposed to be able to see his crucifixion, and more than once told his disciples what they were going to do before they did it."

"Then maybe this IS the spirit realm here in the world we're in now," Ray said.

"I don't know," Nelva said. "It may be. The five-dimensional solenoid is my own discovery. It's what enables us to be here in the state of existence we're in. It's an elaboration of the four-dimensional one you discovered by yourself, Ray. I'm just beginning to understand its full potentialities. It could be that I'm the originator of it, and future generations are using it now, and have used it in all past ages. Time travel sort of mixes things up. It can make the causes of things in the past come from the future, and make things we see happening long ago have their origin in something in a future age."

one-week as in the past two years. The letter also explains the broad program being offered the boys, including hiking, swimming, rifle, tennis, hockey, softball, canoeing, crafts, and badminton.

Overall Food Prices at Both Retail and Wholesale Levels Hold Generally Steady

By The Associated Press
Overall food prices at both the retail and wholesale level held steady this week.

Some stores trimmed prices of a few pork items two to six cents a pound as consumer meat buying continued slow generally. Demand for eggs was reported holding up well, however, and top grade eggs were boosted one to four cents a dozen in many places.

Price advances appeared to outnumber declines in retail produce departments. Higher than last weekend in most sections were snap beans, beets, broccoli, cabbage, carrots, cauliflower, strawberries, tomatoes, oranges and grapefruit.

Asparagus moved a little lower but was still in the specialty class in most markets. Also somewhat lower were cucumbers, lettuce, peas and spinach.

Food prices at the wholesale level steadied after declining for three weeks in a row. The Dun & Bradstreet wholesale index, representing the total wholesale cost of a pound each of 31 general use foods, was unchanged at $7.15 and compared with $5.75 a year ago and $5.96 just before the Korean war began. The year's high for this index was $7.31 on Feb. 20.

The Agriculture Department topped its list of plentiful foods for thrifty buying this week with eggs and dry beans.

"Hens are doing their spring production job, with cartons of eggs stacked high in cooler chests and on grocery shelves all over," its production and marketing administration said. "Eggs from medium to large are in good supply."

Although egg prices edged up a little this week in many areas, market analysts believe a downward trend can be expected. One reason is that improved breeding of chickens, better feed and more scientific handling are increasing production per hen. The average daily

Efforts Made by President's Opponents

Thousands of telegrams poured in to the lawmakers and the White House reported receiving "several hundred."

There was talk of a quick reassessment of the Korean situation by the United Nations and possible revival of efforts to set forth peace aims. These might follow the lines laid down by the president in his speech.

Several state legislatures received resolutions criticizing the president for his action. Some asked for impeachment, a move that Republicans in congress talked about and abandoned immediately as impractical.

Abroad, the French, British and Indians expressed their gratification at the change in command. The Japanese were shocked, but began playing up General Matthew Ridgway—MacArthur's successor—in their newspapers.

Mr. Truman's outline of his policy of containment brought sharp counter attacks from Republicans in congress. Democrats, who had been somewhat reluctant to join in the controversy earlier, rallied to the president's support.

The president said there are signs that the Communists are building up for a new mass attack in Korea. He expressed confidence that it will be turned back.

Mr. Truman said that "real peace" could be achieved on three basic conditions:

"One: The fighting must stop.

"Two: Concrete steps must be taken to insure that the fighting will not break out again.

"Three: There must be an end to aggression."

He said he is trying to limit the war in Korea "to make sure that the precious lives of our fighting men are not wasted; to see that the security of our country and the free world is not needlessly jeopardized; and to prevent a third world war."

"A number of events have made it evident that General MacArthur did not agree with that policy," the president said. "Have therefore considered it essential to remove General MacArthur so that there would be no doubt or confusion as to the real purpose and aim of our policy."

He said it was "with the deepest personal regret" that he took the action, because he regards MacArthur as "one of our greatest military commanders."

"But the cause of world peace is more important than any individual," the president said.

The president read from what he said were two secret intelligence reports:

Outside of congress, the controversy over the MacArthur removal exploded across the country and reverberated in the world's capitals.

Previous award winners were John Simko of Sheffield, Donald Schuler of North Warren, Fred Lindsey of Corry, Miss Jessie Cuthbertson, Mrs. William T. McCausland, Miss Ruth Figliuzzi, Sigmund E. Decker and Mrs. Andrew Pauck of Warren.

Funds for the prizes were donated by four Warren insurance dealers, Garrison Insurance Agency, Paul Yagge, Logan Belon and Floyd Conklin, and the Warren County Motor Club.

The final winner of the contest will be picked this afternoon.

Red Cross Campaign Reported Over Top

Brace Knabenshue, local Red Cross chairman, announced today that the Warren County Red Cross drive had gone over the top. He said, "We are wiring Area Red Cross Headquarters that Warren county has more than met its 1951 quota of $21,690. We have $22,406.60." Donald Schuler, 1951 drive chairman, in commenting on the success of the drive said, "I want to thank every one who helped to make this campaign a success. The support we got from individual workers, committee members and the press and radio was wonderful."

IT'S SO NICE TO BE THE MAN AROUND THE HOUSE?—It has some disadvantages, living with seven pretty women, thinks Bill Phipps of Los Angeles (fifth from left in line for the bathroom). Bill and a dog named Cyranos (second from left) share a rooming house with the seven girls and it's all perfectly okay, since a housemother takes care of the whole brood. The seven ladies in the bathroom line are: Lucille Dellano, Janet Stewart, Frances Conley, Diana Marievsky, Maxine Cross, Virginia and Carol Price.

BRINK'S HOLD-UP—Barge, above, carrying 1200 tons of coal, broke loose from moorings at Minneapolis, Minn.; carried some five miles downstream by a swift current, miraculously missed several bridges, was left resting on brink of Ford Dam where it awaits destruction or salvage.

Garland Couple to Celebrate Golden Wedding in Capital

Garland, April 12—Mr. and Mrs. Chris Lund have left by automobile for Washington, D. C., where they will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with their children and grandchildren. Garland friends join in wishing these admirable people much happiness in the years to come.

The monthly business meeting was held at the community house Monday evening, preceded by a well attended tinner dinner.

Friends and neighbors gathered in the community house Saturday evening to honor those having April birthday anniversaries. The honored ones were remembered with greeting cards and several decorated cakes were a part of the festivities.

Donna Lanning, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lanning, is home following an illness in Warren General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Parker have returned from North East, where they were called by the death and funeral of the latter's sister-in-law, Mrs. Claude Parker.

Russell Smith drove his son Ted to Meadville for the latter to join with other students on a spring holiday trip. They go to Pittsburgh, then to Beaver Falls, and on to New York City for a few days of sightseeing.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill and two daughters are back in town after living for a time near Westfield. They brought a trailer back with them.

Dr. Prout preached the sermon in the local Presbyterian church Sunday.

Vivian Smith and Wave Carlson attended the 50th anniversary party of the Corry Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, with a program given Sunday in the Presbyterian church.

The recent death of Ella Mead Strong calls to mind her presence at the school reunion held in Garland last summer. Mrs. Strong was a member of a pioneer family of Pittsburgh and attended the old wooden school which burned to the ground when Ida Norman and Mae Hokanson were teaching there and was replaced by the present brick building. Mrs. Strong was the oldest pupil present at the reunion of pupils of that day and gave a very interesting talk of the earlier days, spiced with many touches of wit and humor. She will be missed at the gathering planned for this summer.

Charles Taidis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taidis, is home on a 10-day leave. He has been in the army more than two years.

Mrs. Cobb, has been called here by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. John Wojtowicz.

State and township employees have been unloading several cars of cinders at the New York Central station.

WOMAN DIES

Altoona, April 12—(AP)—The death of Mrs. Eleanor Ruth Lampe, 39, of Silver Springs, Md., found in the back seat of her husband's car, has been ruled the result of influenza and complications.

Mrs. Lampe died here yesterday, en route to Allport, Pa., to visit her parents. Her husband, James G. Lampe, said she had been treated by the family physician before starting the trip.

The Lampes were accompanied by their two children, a 16-year-old girl and a boy, 14.

PASSES INSPECTION

Word has been received by officials of the Warren General Hospital reporting that the institution was found to conform with state standards and requirements, following the annual inspection made earlier in the week by a representative of the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare.

LUDLOW

Mrs. Gust E. Engman is suffering from pleurisy and is confined at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Christenson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson and daughter, Kathryn, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Herron of Allegheny, N. Y.

Mrs. Wm. Hanson and Mrs. Paul Bloomquist have returned from New York City, after having attended the International Beauty Show from Sunday until Thursday.

Mrs. Hanson will be in Ludlow Thursday and Saturday from now on.

Mr. and Mrs. M. I. Jones were Jamestown visitors Friday.

Sylvania Launches Broad Promotional Advertising Drive

Broad scale, intensive, promotional activities at the local level are being launched by the Radio and Television Division of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., for the month of April in the interests of that company's television sets.

In all cities where Sylvania has distributors, from coast-to-coast, dealers are making full use of a promotional kit consisting of full page cooperative advertisements, life-size window displays, counter cards, pennants, 6 ft. posters, balloons and window stickers—all tying in national advertising in "This Week" and many other Sunday supplements.

Television and radio spot announcements and Minute Movies are also being supplied according to an announcement made yesterday by William D. Stroben, advertising manager of the Radio and Television Division of Sylvania at Buffalo, N. Y.

"Our field managers report fine support from both distributors and dealers from coast-to-coast," said Mr. Stroben. "We anticipate the greatest single tie-in campaign in the history of our division during the next sixty to ninety days."

NO VOICE IN SHARON

Sharon, April 2—(AP)—Sharon is free of commercialized gambling, a three-pastor committee told the Sharon Ministerial Association after a month-long investigation of gambling conditions. The association drew up two resolutions after it heard the committee's report, declaring that Sharon ministers will operate fully in law enforcement and urging citizens to obey the law.

PREMIUM ON WET DAYS OFFERED IN FLORIDA

St. Petersburg, Fla., April 12—(AP)—Members of the St. Petersburg Apartment Home Owners Association won't charge for any day the sun doesn't shine here in May or June.

"We're going to lean over backwards on that proposition, too," says Peter Stein, Jr., association president. "The advertising in handing a day's rent now and then should be worth more to us than the cash."

He explained the apartment owners want to call attention to the attractiveness of St. Petersburg in the months after the end of the regular winter season here and when the northern resorts come into their own.

The idea is modeled on the one popularized by the St. Petersburg Evening Independent, which gives away its early street edition if the sun hasn't come out by press time.

BILL OF PARTICULARS IN FREE WORKS CASE

Pittsburgh, April 12—(AP)—State Prosecutor William H. Colvin charges one city employe and two former city workers did "free work" on city controller Edward R. Frey's properties.

Colvin made the charges in a bill of particulars filed shortly after an Allegheny county court moved back Frey's trial one week to April 23.

The bill listed the employes as Joseph R. O'Brien, and the ex-employees as William H. Martin and Herman Dengler.

Colvin said Martin spent 1,000 hours on the controller's properties from 1945 to 1948, with taxpayers footing the bill.

Frey is charged with misdemeanor in office and fraudulent conversion.

WILDCAT STRIKES AT WESTINGHOUSE PLANT

Pittsburgh, April 12—(AP)—If wildcat strikes continue, the east Pittsburgh plant of Westinghouse Electric Corporation may be shut down.

That's the warning from Vice President T. I. Phillips to nearly 17,000 employes at the plant. About 12,000 are member of Local 601, CIO International Union of Electrical Workers.

Phillips' warning came just eight days after local 601 held a one-day walkout to protest the laying off of a union steward.

Phillips said the walkout was the 33rd since the beginning of the year despite a contract agreement against any kind of work stoppages.

HIGHWAY SINKS

New Castle, April 12—(AP)—Route 18, a few miles south of here, is closed because a 300-foot section of the road dropped 50 feet at some points in less than 24 hours.

Alfred A. Martin, Lawrence county highway superintendent, said the bed of clay commonly referred to as sliding clay caused the collapse of the highway's foundation.

RENT CONTROL NEWS RELEASE

Office of The Housing Expediter, Area Rent Office, 707 Commerce Building, Erie, Penn'a

Question: My sister and I have rented a flat for five years, paying $40 per month at first and then later $46, when the rent was increased by a 15% long term lease. Recently my father died and my mother has come to live with us. Our landlord now insists on collecting $5 per month additional. Is this lawful?

Answer: No! Such collection is not legal unless and until the rent office issued a formal order approving the rent increase. The test that the rent office would apply is the test of whether the number of people occupying the premises would now be in excess of normal occupancy for that type of accommodations on the freeze date, or whether the number of people in occupancy is in excess of the number contemplated by the rental agreement in effect on the freeze date.

Question: I have been considering building a new house on the lot adjoining my house. In the event I decided to rent this house instead of selling it would it be under control?

Answer: Under the provisions of the law, as it has existed from July 1, 1947, new construction is not under rent control.

Question: My wife has been seriously ill in the last six months, and the doctor has advised that she must have help. I would like to evict my second floor tenant so that my daughter and her husband can move in and thus relieve the present situation. What do I need to do?

Answer: Petition the Rent Office immediately for a certificate relating to eviction. If the Rent Office is satisfied as to the facts, a certificate relating to eviction for the removal or eviction of your second floor tenant in accordance with the local (Pennsylvania) law.

Question: During the past year I have had to put on a new roof on one of my single houses at a cost of $600. My taxes, insurance, and other miscellaneous expenses bring my total expenses for the year to approximately $800, or $200 more than I took in. Am I entitled to an increase?

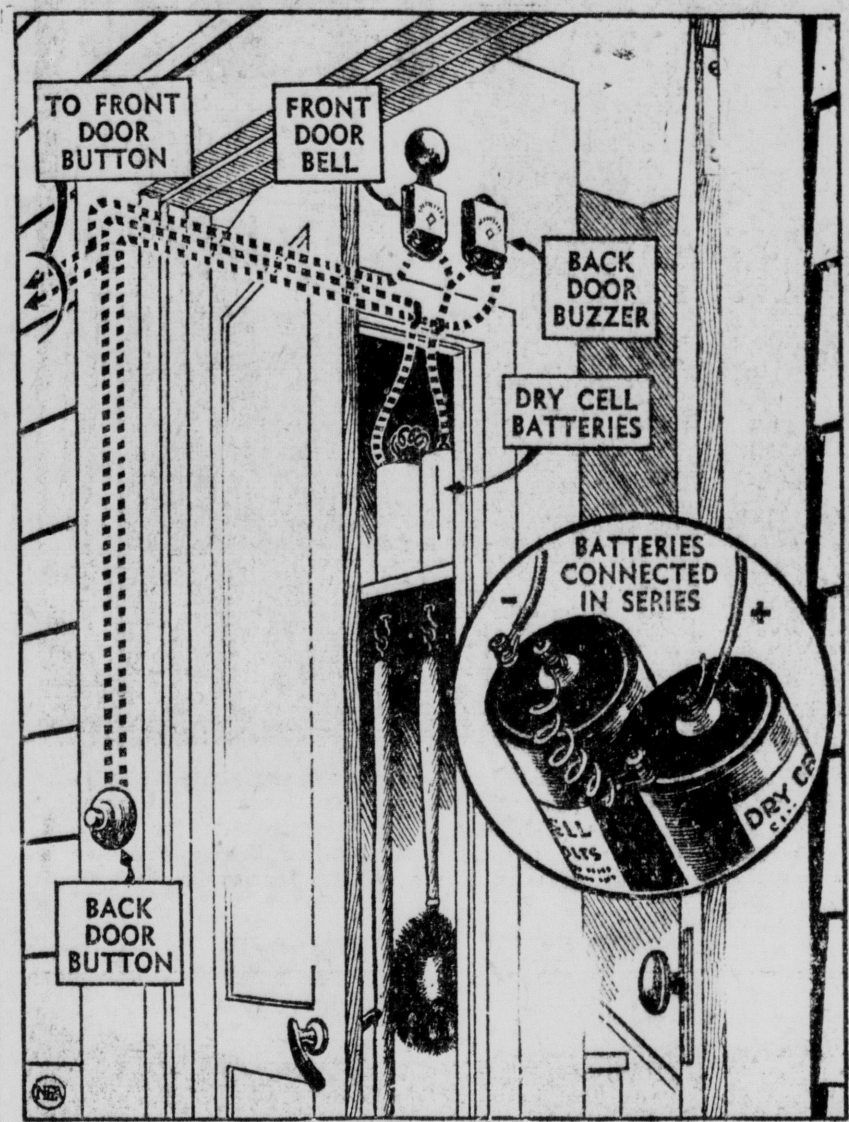

Answer: Possibly. However, since replacing a roof is not a yearly occurrence, the rent office cannot consider your operating deficit as a normal deficit. We would consider that the normal life of the new roof would be 15 years so that from a real estate accounting point of view the yearly cost of the roof over the 15 year period would be $40 per year. Furthermore, since a landlord has always had to maintain a proper roof in order to rent his property, the only portion of the $40 yearly expenditure which the Rent Office could consider would be the portion of the expenditure which was in excess of the cost of such roof in 1942. On the assumption that building costs such as a new roof are approximately double 1942 costs only one half of the $40, or $20, could thus properly be considered as increased costs. Thus it appears likely that if you have already been granted at least a 15% increase no additional amount would be granted on increased costs but if such increase has not been granted the probable limit of increase would be 15%.

What You Should Know About Fixing Door Bells

Sketch-diagram shows how to hook up a doorbell circuit.

BY MR. FIX
Distributed by NEA Service

A broken doorbell may be one good excuse for ignoring bill collectors, neighborhood bores and people who want to hog the best seat in front of your television set.

On the other hand, instead of going away they may eventually batter your front door to pieces, which will entail a lot more repair work on your part than fixing the bell so it will ring again.

When callers press the button and nothing happens, the first place to check is down cellar where the bell gets its electric energy, usually by means of dry cell batteries. Although they last a long time in doorbell installations, batteries eventually have to be replaced.

Most home circuits use two batteries to operate the normal front and back doorbells. The batteries should be hooked up in series. In other words, they are connected by a wire from the center terminal of one battery to the outside terminal of the other. And one bell circuit wire is connected to a center terminal, the other to an outside terminal.

Put the batteries in a cool, dry spot and they'll last longer.

If you want to do away with batteries, you can buy a bell ringing transformer instead. This has heavy wires that connect with the house current, and terminals for attaching the bell wire.

Electrical codes in some communities require that a bell transformer circuit be fused separately, in which case you can buy a fuse box and transformer as a complete unit. Be sure you know what you're doing before you hook it up; you're playing with a lot more voltage than you'll find in dry cell batteries.

If the bell still doesn't work after the new batteries — or a transformer — have been installed, start looking for loose connections. Tighten up the wires where they connect with the push-button. Clean the dirt and corrosion from the push-button contact points with emery paper.

This ought to ring the bell most of the time, unless there's a broken wire some place. Trace the wire visually where it's exposed, and tug gently at it where it disappears into walls or woodwork. When you find the break, just splice it together again and cover with tape.

A bell circuit is a good place for the man-about-the-house to start learning about electricity. Since the voltage is very low, you can practice without danger of shocking yourself or blowing out all the fuses.

YEGGS AT POST OFFICE

A man booked on Olean police records as John Michael Rathy, 34, of Farrell, was arraigned before a United States Commissioner in Buffalo Monday on charges of breaking into a federal building and rifling the mails. The man is said to have broken into the Olean Post Office and stolen two checks, then notified a telephone operator that the burglary occurred and shortly afterwards climbed out of a back window, walked to the local police headquarters and gave himself up. This all occurred Sunday night shortly before midnight. Two of the envelopes opened are said to have contained U. S. Treasury checks, one for $9.33 and the other for $11.04. The third contained an income tax receipt.

Claims State Is Leader in Nation In Transportation

Harrisburg—No other State in the Nation has made such outstanding contributions to the growth of the modern transportation as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, says the Department of Commerce.

The first long paved road in America was the Lancaster Pike between Lancaster and Philadelphia, constructed in 1794. Today, America was the Lancaster Pike highway runs across the Commonwealth from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh and is now being continued to the Ohio line.

John Fitch, in 1786, applied for the first patent on a steamboat. The first regular passenger run of any steamboat in the world was from Philadelphia to Burlington in 1790.

The first American Navy consisted of six ships of the line which were built by Joshua Humphreys, a Pennsylvanian, in 1797.

The first self-propelled amphibious vehicle in the world was constructed and operated on land and water by Oliver Evans of Philadelphia in 1804. This vehicle was also America's first automobile.

The first steamboat constructed and operated on western inland waters was the New Orleans, built in Pittsburgh in 1811.

The first screw-propelled Naval vessel in the world, the U. S. steamship Princeton, was launched in Philadelphia in 1843.

The first iron battleship of the United States Navy, the U. S. steamship, Michigan, afterwards renamed the Wolverine, was launched on Lake Erie also in 1843 and for more than 50 years was the only battleship on the Great Lakes.

In the field of rail transportation, Pennsylvania's preeminence began with the first locomotive ever to run on an American railroad (August 8, 1829 from Lackawanna to Wayne County).

The list of the State's contributions to the growth of the railroads includes the first railroad tunnel ever dug in America; the first sleeping car; the first railroad telegraph; the first tank car, and, most important of all, the Westinghouse automatic air-brake which revolutionized all railroad operation.

Memorial Is Held For Former Pastor Of Ludlow Church

Ludlow, April 12—During regular services in First Mission church, a moment of silent prayer was observed in memory of the late Rev. Wilbur Nylind, of Minneapolis, Minn., a former pastor of the parish. Announcement was made that confirmation class this week will meet at 3:45 p. m. Friday; also that parents of children interested in attending Daily Vacation Bible School should contact Rev. Herman Davidson, Ernest Carlson or Mrs. Otto Carlson. Many members of this church attended a farewell party in Ridgeway honoring Dr. Theodore Johnson, missionary, who will soon return to the Belgian Congo.

Of special note is the fact that the folder and flowers on the altar at Moriah Lutheran church Sunday were given in observance of the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Axel L. Nelson, gifts of their sons, Melvin, of Gowanda, N. Y., Allen of Lenoir, N. C., and Edmund, Ludlow. Moriah Missionary Society was entertained at the church by Edith Larson, with a fine attendance. The session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Ernest W. Swanson, who also gave scripture reading and prayer. The program centered on Japan and was given by Mrs. Leland Engman, Mrs. Homer Gilfert, and Mrs. Enoch Nelson. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. Mrs. Jack Andrews was welcomed as a new member.

Moriah Ladies Aid held its regular meeting with Mrs. C. J. Carlson and Mrs. C. E. Carlson as hostesses, and 36 in attendance, including several guests. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Lawrence Larson, who also led in devotionals. It was decided to hold a bake sale in late April, with details to be announced. The program included readings by Mrs. Gustav Olson and Mrs. Oscar Swanson, and a song by the little Misses Emily Johnson and Carol Ralston, accompanied by Mrs. Ed. Wenstran. Coffee was served in the late afternoon.

Several Ludlow people attended the 53rd anniversary observance of the S.E. of A. held in Bradford. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wenstran and Mrs. Wm. Ralston appeared on the program, with accordion music and drum. Others in attendance were Mrs. Axel Nelson, Mrs. Victor Bergquist, Mrs. C. J. Carlson, Norma Bergquist, Roger Swanson, and Mrs. Gust Carlson.

Mr. and Mrs. Axel W. Anderson, Jamestown, were Sunday visitors in Ludlow.

G. A. Olson and Tillie Olson spent several days of last week in Leechburg, at the home of the Rev. Robert E. Olson. Marie Edstrom accompanied them and remained at the Olson home for another week. Mrs. Olson is visiting relatives in Louisiana, while touring the south with Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Sapper of Erie.

Mrs. Eugene Huber has returned to the C. H. Gardner home after having spent three weeks in Poughkeepsie with her sister, who is recovering from surgery. Robert Orr accompanied her home and returned to Poughkeepsie.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

ENGLISH TWIST TO CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY

Written for NEA Service
A weird new Canasta idea has just been developed in England. They call it "Acaba."

At any time during a hand, when it is your turn to play, you may say "Acaba"—according to this new English custom. That ends the hand immediately. The cards are mixed without any counting at all, and the opponents get 1500 points for the hand. No more and no less. Your side gets nothing at all.

One further wrinkle: At your turn you may ask your partner for permission to say "Acaba." This operates just like asking for permission to meld out.

Let me make it clear right from the beginning that there is nothing legal or official about this strange English practice. However, I find it rather interesting—and I am sure Canasta players will want to try it out once or twice.

It has a curious effect on the game. When you pick up a really big discard pile, you tend to meld out at once if you can score substantially more than 1500 points. Otherwise the next player will end the fun by saying "Acaba."

Suppose the pile is born frozen and just stays that way for round after round. It mounts up and up, each player discarding carefully, until it contains several natural canastas. Finally, you reach a point where you have to make a dangerous discard.

This is a familiar situation, of course, and in an ordinary game you just cross your fingers and make your discard. Not so if you are using the Acaba feature.

Maybe you should say "Acaba" and give away 1500 points to the enemy. If you don't, the next player may grab the pile, score three thousand points and meld right out.

But you feel like a prize fool if you say "Acaba" and then discover that your discard would have been safe.

Anyway, it's fun to try once or twice. I don't think it will last, but it's an ingenious idea and might lead to some other good developments.

One more reminder: This idea is not a new official rule. It's just a new wrinkle you might want to experiment with if all the players at your table agree to it.

Weird interpretations of Canasta rules are spoiling the exciting game for many sincere fans. If you want to be sure on ALL the rules send for the brand new 1951 INTERNATIONAL LAWS OF CANASTA by Oswald Jacoby. Just put 15 cents in coin with your name and address in an envelope.

Relief Payments Are Reported Down During February

Harrisburg—Total payments for public assistance grants in Pennsylvania again declined during February.

The month's expenditures amounted to $9,805,000 or $54,000 less than was spent for grants in January. The February decrease in expenditures resulted from a further drop in the number of persons receiving assistance, which in turn was the result of a continuance of the rise in employment opportunities.

Of the $9,805,000 spent for grants during the month, $3,210,000 was spent for grants to Old-Age Assistance recipients, $3,978,000 went to families receiving Aid to Dependent Children, $1,879,000 was spent for grant to General Assistance recipients, $613,000 went to the blind in the form of Blind Pensions, and $125,000 was spent for grant to totally and permanently disabled persons receiving assistance under the newly established Aid to Disabled program.

The federal government contributed $4,022,000, or 41 per cent of the month's expenditures as its share of the total cost of the assistance program. The remaining $5,783,000 came from state funds.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Now here's a dainty dish to set before the king, or any other members of a hungry family.

Little Veal Pies

One-fourth cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup cold chicken broth or bouillon, 1 cup hot chicken broth or bouillon, 1 cup cooked peas, 3/4 cup sliced cooked mushrooms, 2 1/2 cups diced cooked veal, 6 small onions.

Crust—1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1/4 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 5 to 6 tablespoons ice water.

Garnish—18 small sprigs of parsley.

1. Mix together 1/4 cup flour, one teaspoon salt and one cup cold chicken broth or bouillon to form a smooth paste. Add to one cup hot chicken broth or bouillon and cook over low heat until thick and no starchy taste remains. Stir constantly.

2. Add peas, mushrooms and veal; continue cooking for about two minutes longer or until vegetables and meat are heated through.

3. Parboil onions for 10 minutes. Place one onion in each of six well greased heat-resistant glass deep pie dishes, 9 1/2 ounce size. Fill with veal mixture.

4. Crust: Sift together 1 1/2 cups flour, baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt. Cut in shortening until it is the size of peas. Add ice water a little at a time, mixing only enough to hold ingredients together.

5. Place dough on lightly floured board and roll to about 1/8 inch thickness. Cut six circles the size of the top of the deep pie dishes. Gash circles of dough to allow steam to escape. Place circles on top of veal filling.

6. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) for about 25 minutes or until crust is browned. Garnish with parsley for serving.

★ THE SCOREBOARD ★ Derby May Not Have Favorite Unless Uncle Miltie Sticks Out

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Unless Uncle Miltie makes good on remarkable workouts, the Kentucky Derby, May 5, is likely to come up without a decided favorite.

The Experimental Free Handicap No. 1 at Jamaica indicated pretty clearly that the spring three-year-old classics are going to be uncertain quantities.

But there is the chance that Joseph J. Colando's Uncle Miltie will become a stickout. In that respect, the next and longer Experimental—$25,000 added, a mile and a sixteenth, April 14—will have as its chief interest the showing of the bay colt which came out of nowhere to be judged by Handicapper John B. Campbell and other experts as the juvenile most likely to succeed.

Mrs. Nora A. Mikell's Repertoire, something of an outsider, copped The Experimental No. 2 at six furlongs eased up. The chestnut son of Happy Argo-My Hattie has never won at a greater distance. Close observers wouldn't be surprised if George D. Widener and Bert Mulholland waited until the Wood Memorial, April 21, to go with Battlefield.

THE handsome chestnut hasn't been out since he copped The Belmont Futurity last fall. He worked at Hialeah during the winter, but Trainer Mulholland scratched him from The Experimental No. 1. The track was described as fast, but there was considerable water in it. Mulholland didn't care to run the risk of having the War Relic-Dark Display dude knocked around in what would have been a 14-horse field.

But if Battlefield is going to the Derby, it's about time he got a race under his belt preparatory to traveling a mile and a quarter.

His handlers may be looking more toward The Preakness, May 19, than the Derby, or even the Belmont Stakes at Owner Widener's Belmont Park, June 16.

Widener has never shipped a horse to the Derby. Of the rest of the top-weighted ones, it is also doubtful that Greentree's Big Stretch will tackle The Experimental No. 2. A moody fellow, he has not trained well. This famous stable will have to go with Northern Star presently to see what the imported Irish has. Meanwhile, Derby talk centers around Uncle Miltie. The big-kneed colt, the dam of which, Twink-Mo, was sold for $200 after he was foaled, has filled out, especially around the chest, and last year sages tabbed Heather Broom's son as an outstanding stayer.

Adopt New Policy On Grid Telecasts

New Haven, Conn., April 12—(AP)—College football probably will be televised on a selective basis next fall while the colleges take soundings to find out the effect on attendance.

The national collegiate athletic association TV steering committee evolved a plan which now goes to the N.C.A.A. national committee under which one game would be televised each Saturday in each national area.

The announcement by the committee cleared up uncertainty that developed after the N.C.A.A. called for a moratorium on football television.

Anglers Ready For 1951 Trout Season

Harrisburg, April 12—(AP)—Pennsylvania's anglers are putting their gear in order for the opening of the trout season at 5 a. m. Sunday.

A record catch is predicted by C. A. French, executive director of the state fish commission. But, French added, the weather must be favorable to assure a record. At the same time, French and M. F. Draemel, forests and waters secretary, asked fishermen to be careful with their campfires, cigarettes and pipe heels. "These are the greatest hazards to our forests as far as fire is concerned," Draemel said. "Each sportsman must assume his responsibility of care with fire in Pennsylvania's 15 million acres of forest lands."

Guard Seed from Disease with Anti-biotic Sphagnum

Probably, so long as men use weapons to kill wild animals and birds, just so long will careless, excited or greedy hunters shoot other humans or themselves, whether or not a safety color is worn.

But who can give the answer to the intangible: how many persons have not been shot only because other hunters "saw red" before pulling the trigger? Certainly, red warns of danger or suggests caution wherever we see it.

If the best all-season safety color for hunters is red, in order to give maximum protection it should be a bright hue, not a dark or maroon shade. The new, light-reflecting fabrics have hardly had a try-out, but they already indicate that their protection value, even in poor light, is greater than that of ordinary, red-dyed cloth.

Among safety-minded people there is growing belief that different colors, used in different seasons to contrast with changes in hunting background, would provide maximum protection to hunters. They believe that such contrasting colors offer more protection than would any single color that might be used under all conditions. For example, a white head-covering would provide ideal protection for a summer woodchuck hunter, but the same headpiece would blend with the snowscape in deer season. To an anxious shooter, it might resemble the white tail of a deer. Also, yellow might be an ideal color to wear in summer and winter, but it would serve as little protection against some autumn backgrounds.

Very possibly, the controversy over the protective value of red, or the desirability of varying the color with seasons, will result in studies determining what are the colors that offer hunters the greatest safety under different outdoor conditions.

An optimistic note for eastern fresh-water fishermen is sounded by the West Virginia Conservation Commission.

Rainbow trout are spawning in streams of that state.

Native to the mountain streams of the Pacific coast, rainbows for years have been stocked in the east, but were not known to spawn. Chief E. A. Seaman of the West Virginia commission's fish management division netted fry, fingerlings and rainbow trout to 10 inches in length in Monroe County, proving that the eggs hatch and thrive. Monroe County has not been stocked in recent years.

Whenever seeds are sown early, to grow in the home, or hot-bed, they should be protected from the danger of disease. This danger is increased by low temperatures, excessive dampness, absence of sunshine, and any departure from the normal conditions of warm soil and full sun.

Hardy seeds sown directly in the garden when the weather is still chilly, and they may lie for days before warmth sufficient to germinate them arrives, should be treated with a disinfectant. There are several of these available in powder form. A tiny amount shaken in the seed packet will protect the seed.

But in seed boxes, protection can be given by using sphagnum moss, an inexpensive material used by florists and nurserymen to wrap around plant roots to keep them moist. This moss is believed to have anti-biotic qualities, since it destroys bacteria and fungi.

Most plant diseases are caused by fungi, which live as parasites on other plants or organic materials. The most common disease which threatens seed is known as "damping off."

This may attack seeds when they first sprout, and prevent the growth from breaking through the soil; or it may wait until the seedling plant is growing well, and cause it to wilt overnight.

A thin layer of sphagnum moss—say half an inch—which has been passed through a sieve, may be spread over the soil in a seed box. Sow the seed in this, just as you would in soil. Then cover with moss which has been rubbed through a sieve, firm and water from above. There is no danger of over-watering when moss is used.

Rub anti-biotic sphagnum moss through sieve to cover soil.

General Business In All Industrial Areas Shows Gain

State College.—General business in all leading industrial areas of Pennsylvania in February showed a strong gain over business reported a year ago, but the change over January was nominal.

The Bureau of Business Research at the Pennsylvania State College reported today that the index of general business in February was 349 as compared to 274 a year ago and 348 in January. The index is based on bank debits, factory payrolls, and industrial power sales and uses the years 1935-39 as 100.

New records for the month were noted in February for bank debits, postal receipts, telephones, building contracts, life insurance sales, motor vehicle sales, factory payrolls, industrial power sales, and department store sales.

Average hourly earnings in factories ran $1.55 against $1.40 a year ago while average weekly earnings were $62.09 against $54.86. Both figures kept abreast of the rising cost of living in the past 12 months, the Bureau noted.

The cost of living in Pennsylvania in February was up 10 per cent from that of a year ago while retail food prices were up 16 per cent. The Bureau pointed out that wholesale prices were up 20 per cent from those of a year ago or double the rise in retail costs in the same period and pointed out that therefore inflation at the retail level is likely to continue for awhile.

The summary for the Warren area is as follows:

Warren area: All leading series but motor vehicle sales reported gains in February over 1950. New highs for the month were noted for industrial power sales, telephones and postal receipts. Building operations were the best for any recent year (See Oil City for factory data).

Bachelors, Beware!

To the Editor:

"Secretary. Cocktails at 5. Employer guarantees husband in six months." That help-wanted ad, according to a Feb. 6, 1951, United Press story from Washington, D. C., that I saw in the Los Angeles Times, ran in the Feb. 6 Washington Post.

If that's the way they do things in Washington, no wonder you people are in such a mess. But, to me what seems worst about this ad is the dirty trick that is being played on this young woman's husband-to-be. When he finds he is married to a wife who has to have a shot of whiskey every day at 5 o'clock in order to keep her from kicking over the traces, how long do you think he will want to stay hitched to such a liquor lapper? I think some one ought to warn Washington bachelors, before they marry a secretary, to find out whether she looks forward to a corsage or a cocktail of an evening—in other words, whether she will be satisfied with rosebuds or will insist on Four Roses.

RAGS

Gifts of The National Voice
Los Angeles to Calif.

To the Editor:

O America, America, you can do nothing apart from the Lord. Humble yourself and acknowledge your personal and national sins. Call upon the Lord while it is day, saying: "We have sinned. We have forsaken Thy laws, and the principles of righteousness upon which this great democracy was founded. We have greatly erred. We beg mercy and forgiveness in Jesus' name, and through His precious blood. Save us and this land from destruction, as we humbly turn back unto Thee, as the true and living God, the almighty God. There is none like unto Thee. We covenant to worship and serve Thee."

Peradventure in that day the Lord would hear our prayers and heal our land, and make His face to shine upon us. He would conquer our enemies. But, if we turn not unto Him, He will be our enemy, and will fight against us. The destiny of man depends upon His reaction before God in this critical hour. His Word says "Turn ye, turn ye from your evil ways, and live."
